ORAL SURGERY –

EASIER, FASTER, MORE PREDICTABLE FOR THE GENERAL PRACTICE

2-DAY HANDS-ON CADAVER WORKSHOP

Co-sponsored by the Ontario Academy of General Dentistry

June 7-8, 2013 • Toronto, Ontario

This oral surgery presentation covers ideas and recommendations that will simplify procedures, make them more predictable, and help you broaden the range of operations performed in your office from exodontia to apicos. Techniques are shared that will expedite the most stubborn extractions.

Key elements of partial bony third molar impactions are also reviewed. Along with that, Dr. Koerner discusses effective one-drug oral sedation and how to minimize swelling with potent anti-inflammatories. He takes the confusion out of aesthetic bone grafts for extraction sites. In summary, Dr. Koerner clarifies current standards of care for surgery procedures common to general practice

Perio Institute is proud to bring you this 2-day Oral Surgery Cadaver workshop taught by Dr. Karl Koerner. This presentation gives ideas and recommendations that will simplify oral surgery procedures and broaden the range of operations performed in your office. He will show you how to perform "surgical" extractions without extensive bone removal. With this foundation, Dr. Koerner progresses to ridge preparation for dentures, suturing techniques, and effective one-drug oral sedation. He covers how to prevent and/or treat common complications – such as bleeding problems, sinus perforations, paresthesia, and edema. He takes the hype and confusion out of aesthetic bone grafts for extraction sites. These things will increase your bottom line without adding more stress to your day. In summary, Dr. Koerner will clarify current standards of care while increasing your comfort level for several oral surgery procedures.

Respectfully,

PERIO INSTITUTE

Instruments are provided by Hu-Friedy

WORKSHOP INSTRUCTOR

KARL R. KOERNER, DDS

Dr. Koerner is a general dentist who performs only oral surgery treatment. In the past decade he has removed wisdom teeth from over 14,000 patients – nearly all with IV sedation. He also does many other procedures such as bone grafts, implants, extractions other than wisdom teeth, apicoectomies, biopsies, selected periodontal procedures and other related things.

When “put out” or sedated for Dr. Koerner’s surgery, it is done by a separate person – someone whose total responsibility is the comfort and safety of the patient. When the patient awakes, there is no remembrance of the event and postoperative medications help maintain a good comfort level while reducing swelling and other potential complications.

As a special service to patients, he works primarily in the offices of other Utah dentists. In this way, patients remain where they are familiar with the office surroundings, staff, and billing practices. Any minor complications can be followed-up with the patient’s family dentist but Dr. Koerner is always available if anything more serious should arise.

Dr. Koerner graduated from Utah State University and then dental school from the University of Washington School of Dentistry in Seattle. He completed a General Practice Residency in the U.S. Army which is where he became adept at the surgery procedures he now performs. Dr. Koerner has written four books on oral surgery which are used by other dentists throughout the world. Some have been published in Spanish, German, Korean, and Chinese. He has written many articles on surgery and also produced several video presentations to help in training other clinicians. In 2010, he received The Academy of General Dentistry’s Weclaw Award for his contributions to general dentistry and dental education.

Dr. Koerner is sought after as a speaker for dental groups, having taught over 800 times at such meetings as the American Dental Association Annual Session, Greater New York, the prestigious Hinman Meeting in Atlanta, the Yankee Meeting in Boston, and California Dental Association Meetings in San Francisco and Anaheim.
