

Recent Graduate Member Benefits

From practice management tips and member discounts to networking opportunities, the AGD is the only organization that exclusively represents the interests and serves the needs of the general dentist. Let the AGD help you through the evolution of your career by joining online today at www.agd.org.

Free Recent Graduate Transitional Manual

Transitioning into a dental career isn't easy. That's why the AGD partnered with Dentist's Advantage and the AGD Foundation to create a manual that provides you with instant access to practice management tips such as goal setting, financial planning, and marketing.

Continuing Education

Stay on top of the latest techniques with CE opportunities offered by the AGD like free online CE, local constituent events, and AGD publications.

Residency Credits toward the Fellowship Award

Get a head start in achieving the prestigious Fellowship (FAGD) Award. Residents can receive up to 150 hours of continuing education credit toward Fellowship upon completion of a one-year, CODA- or CDAC-accredited advanced dental education (GPR/GDR/AEGD) program, and residents who complete a two-year accredited GPR/GDR/AEGD program can receive up to 300 credit hours.

Free AGD Annual Meeting & Exhibits Registration

Earn CE, see the latest products and technology, and network with your colleagues for free! As a member, you'll receive free registration to the AGD Annual Meeting & Exhibits, which includes capsule clinics, lectures, the exhibit hall, and more.

AGD Career Center

Simplify your search! As you begin your career, use the AGD Career Center to help you find a practice, a partner or office equipment. You can also post your résumé or Curriculum Vitae online for employers to find you.

Member Discounts

Save money on both professional and personal products and services through the AGD Benefits Plus program, designed to help you get your practice started.

Post-Graduate Resources

Prepare for a successful dental career with AGD Patient Alerts, a fully-automated patient communication service that delivers quality patient communications like appointment reminders, birthday greetings, and more using e-mail and text messaging. You can also learn how to empower your patients with educational materials like oral health fact sheets, patient newsletters, and www.KnowYourTeeth.com, our go-to resource for consumer oral health and dental care information.

Advocacy and Representation

Through action alerts, public awareness initiatives, state legislative meetings, and an annual trip to Capitol Hill, the AGD advocates to make sure that your future practice and scope of practice are protected.

Free Insurance Contract Analysis

Get free and speedy insurance contract analysis, which will help you assess the terms and ramifications of insurance contracts. You'll also receive assistance with reimbursements and other dental care issues.

Web Tools

Get connected through a variety of Web tools, including e-mail forwarding with an AGD e-mail address, a member Web page builder, Web forums, online case studies, podcasts, a blog, and even AGD wallpaper for your computer's desktop.

Patient Referrals

Build your patient list with help from the Find an AGD Dentist patient referral program. We'll connect you with patients in your area through our online database or the toll-free referral hotline.

And So Much More!

Contact the AGD Membership Services Center, toll-free, at 888.AGD.DENT, or visit our Web site at www.agd.org for more information.